

COLLEGES
TOGETHER | DELIVERING FOR YORK,
NORTH YORKSHIRE AND EAST RIDING

Dear Stakeholders

The purpose of this publication, is to demonstrate the commitment to York, North Yorkshire and the East Riding, of further education colleges.

Through delivering education and skills for 16-18 year olds, and the comprehensive training and study for adults we offer, up to and including degree level, and apprenticeships for all ages, we will help everyone who needs it improve their skills, knowledge and readiness for what our new, changed economy will bring.

Faced now with the worst economic, welfare and health crisis for generations, colleges have a complete and total commitment to the people, communities, businesses and public sector organisations we serve.

Even before the Coronavirus outbreak, skills shortages had been identified in many key sectors of the economy. Now, stronger technical education and technical training will be even more essential to provide opportunities for local people to be the workforce that businesses in advanced digital, manufacturing, construction, science and the green economy will need to be resilient and successful. Health and care professionals and other key roles in the public and private sectors will be in even greater demand.

Never before will leadership, communication and team skills, alongside a day-to-day digital skillset and better literacy and numeracy, be needed as much as they are now to help all recovering organisations be as efficient, productive, agile and entrepreneurial as possible. Those in the labour market may need support and training so they can move into the most secure and highly-skilled roles they can.

And, underpinning all the above, is our ongoing commitment as part of our role, to care for, support and provide opportunities for the vulnerable and disadvantaged in our society to join everyone in having better, healthier, more prosperous and happier lives.

The Yorkshire and Humber Institute of Technology (IOT) brings over £10million of capital investment into the region, providing industry-standard facilities and the higher-level technical training employers need to fill the technical skills gap.

This initiative brings together all colleges in the region, together with our local university and key employer partners.

Colleges Support People and Their Local Communities During COVID Lockdown

Staff and students from Scarborough TEC collected donations for local food banks and charities, including Westway Open Arms and The Rainbow Centre, to help support the many individuals and families in need throughout Christmas and the New Year.

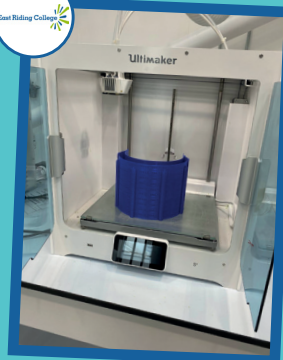

Darlington College staff signed up to run at least a mile for our 'Co-Run a Marathon' to collectively run a virtual marathon together to raise much needed funds with many staff opting to run even further meaning we almost reached 4 marathons!

Chalky is a 12 year old, 15hds Cob and has been at College for four years. He has supported the NHS by joining in with the Clap for Carers with a rainbow on his bottom, which stayed on whilst we hacked around Skipton which was much appreciated by the general public. He also supported (literally!) one of our staff members Jenny Huxall whilst she sat on him whilst Clapping for Carers.

Annabel Smith - MA Creative Practice Tutor - generously dedicated her own time and materials to help create scrubs for the local hospital, Harrogate District Hospital. Annabel spent a week cutting the materials which are now in use.

Our 3D printers contributed to a Humber-wide project that produced 4000+ visors/day for the NHS And helped out 16 local care homes with essential PPE in the first few weeks of the pandemic

Media Makeup Foundation Degree students At York College collaborated online to make a poster to thank the NHS. They applied a superhero make-upon themselves and merged the images to make the poster.

Art & Design Tutor at Selby College, Kiku McNaughton, has joined the nationwide 'For the Love of Scrubs' initiative to help create scrubs for NHS frontline workers.
